

I would like to see morse code testing remain a part of the requirements to obtain an amateur radio license